Description

The first thing you will notice is the finish of the stocks, made with a quality grade of walnut every KOFs shotgun is oil finished to accentuate the colour and figuration of the wood. This attention to detail creates a desirable satin finish that draws comparison to guns over twice the Sceptres price. The second thing you will notice is the quality of the engravings – etched into both sides and the underside of the receiver are attractive scroll engravings. Based on popular European leaf patterns the engravings add a level of sophistication to what is a competent range of game guns. Completing the package is a tried and tested mechanism that features many of the options the modern shooter desires. Based on a single selective trigger design the Sceptre is fitted with a tang mounted safety, ejectors and a set of chrome lined multi choke barrels.
